

BestCrop

Boosting photosynthetic To deliver novel CROPS for the circular bioeconomy

BEST-CROP will develop next generation barley plants by exploiting very promising strategies to improve the photosynthetic properties and ozone assimilation of barley. These improvements will also be accompanied by quality improvement of straw tailored for transformation into high-value bio-based industrial products for the feed, green chemistry, construction and composites sectors.

Funded by the European Union
Grant Agreement No 101082091

UK Research and Innovation